of the letter has not been provided to the other party, it is considered an ex-parte communication. The Court cannot consider ex-parte communications, nor can it give legal advice.

Should either party wish to bring a matter before this Court, he/she should do so by a properly supported motion served upon the other party.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the letter be filed in the Court file with no action having been taken.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that neither party is to file any other communication with this Court without having served the other party with a copy of such communication.

All parties representing themselves must keep the Court updated with address changes. A form may be downloaded at: <http://www.superiorcourt.maricopa.gov/SuperiorCourt/Self-ServiceCenter>.
